ABA TRAINING

About ABA

ABA has unmatched scope and scale in its training offerings. Through the American Institute of Banking (AIB) and other programs, ABA has informed, educated and trained the banking industry for more than 110 years. Our extensive range of products makes our members more competitive and improves their bottom line.

The Industry's Most Comprehensive Curriculum

ABA offers a practical and comprehensive curriculum for the financial services industry that is tailored for all levels of employees, from frontline staff in a branch or call center to senior executives. ABA helps our member banks develop their talent to remain competitive by helping managers map a career path for their employees.

This curriculum incorporates foundational banking courses, such as AIB Principles of Banking, and also includes advanced courses, such as Analyzing Bank Performance, along with other banking and business topics spanning commercial and business banking, management and leadership, marketing and sales, retail and consumer banking, and the wealth management and trust areas of the bank.

It allows employees to further develop skills as they advance in their careers, earn AIB diplomas and certificates, and meet pre-certification education requirements for ICB designations.

Online Convenience and Instructor Guidance

Multiple formats and delivery options make it easy to take advantage of the quality, expertise and innovation that characterize AIB and our other training programs. This allows your bank to mix and match online and classroom delivery formats for a unique learning experience; one that suits your students' learning styles, as well as the bank's budget.

The delivery of courses via the Internet offers students the greatest flexibility and convenience, allowing students access to the same content regardless of their physical location.

Classroom Training Materials

ABA Training materials can be used to create in-bank programs that can be taught internally by bank officers and other subject matter experts. Classroom training materials for AIB courses also can be delivered in-bank and through Local ABA Training Providers.

Diplomas and Certificates

Completion of a prescribed course of study can lead to industry-standard AIB diplomas and certificates. And, ABA has just introduced two new certificates in Commercial Lending and Lending Compliance.

Institute of Certified Bankers

The Institute of Certified Bankers (ICB) promotes industry excellence and continuous career development for bankers through a wide range of job-specific professional certifications.

Many of our professional banking diplomas and skills certificates meet the educational requirements to sit for certification exams offered by ICB. Look for the ICB logo on a course description to see if it also provides continuing education credits. More details are available on page 57.

Frontline Compliance Training

ABA Frontline Compliance Training addresses the financial and administrative costs of compliance training by giving self-paced online courses specific to the jobs of tellers, customer service representatives, call center representatives, personal bankers and consumer lenders to our ABA member banks at no cost.

Whether you are just starting out in banking, or taking the next career step forward, ABA can help you achieve your professional development goals and make a difference in your bank – beginning today!

Key to Course Delivery Options

Delivery option icons reflect the course's current formats. For AIB diplomas and certificates, you may use delivery formats that were previously available.

Instructor-Led Online Training

Instructor-led ABA Online Courses start and end on specified dates, and are led by an experienced banking professional who guides students through the course, answers questions and grades assignments.

Textbooks or downloadable reading materials supplement classroom discussions, external readings, and other relevant activities. Students log on to the Internet at any time to complete assignments. Assignments and examinations are completed over the Internet on the student's time.

Self-Paced Online Training (eLearning)

Self-paced Internet-delivered classes, ABA eLearning, are typically one to two hours long, with the exception of the wealth and trust courses. Students can begin at any time, on any day, since all readings, quizzes, and the final assessment are completed over the Internet.

Learning Extensions

Live workshops that build on the concepts learned in ABA eLearning courses through role play and practice sessions. Learning Extensions include a PowerPoint presentation, and presenter and student handouts in Word™ so you can customize the content for your bank.

Classroom Training Materials

Participant and instructor materials allow these courses to be taught in your bank by senior managers, subject matter experts or your bank's trainers.

AIB courses may also be available in a classroom setting at local financial institutions or community colleges. For schedules and locations, check with the Local ABA Training Provider in your state.

Licensing

Courses that are available for licensing allow ease of classroom facilitation through the use of fully scripted content. Licensing Trainer and Participant Guides allows your bank the flexibility of printing materials as needed for delivery and is cost effective when you have more than 50 learners who need a particular course.

Correspondence

AIB courses may be available via correspondence through Local ABA Training Providers. Students are sent a textbook and a set of practical exercises that are returned for grading. Bank officers and other qualified experts review all correspondence work and proctor or grade all examinations.

Key to Course Credits

AIB AIB Recommended Credit

Courses that have been awarded AIB credit have those credit recommendations listed in the individual course description. Courses that are less than 2 instructional hours do not carry AIB credit.

ICB Approved

Courses that have been approved by the Institute of Certified Bankers (ICB) to meet the requirements to sit for a specific certification exam or to address the certification's continuing education requirements.

VA Benefits

Courses that have been approved by the Department of Veterans Affairs for the use of VA education benefits.

Commercial Lending: A Decision Tree Approach, Part 2, 2013, ABA

Recommended Instructional Hours: 45

Recommended AIB Credit: 3

AIB Course Code: 6350

The Commercial Real Estate Lending Decision Process

The Commercial Real Estate Lending Decision Process, a product of The Risk Management Association, provides a comprehensive study of commercial real estate (CRE) lending, beginning with a description of CRE loan types and progressing to an understanding of the underwriting process, leases, appraisals, loan structures, and related risks.

The program is divided into six parts, which provide students with a foundation in CRE through the use of an innovative virtual bank. Each section is presented in an interactive format to include exercises to check for knowledge throughout the courses. Each course within the complete program includes case studies that are used to ensure depth and understanding of the concepts presented.

Series 1: Types of CRE Loans, Risk Areas and Performance Drivers

This series helps the student learn about the different types of CRE loans and to be able to provide the right loan for both the borrower and the bank. The Series will also identify the risk areas in CRE lending and help analyze the drivers of CRE performance.

Series 2: The CRE Underwriting Process

This series helps the student identify a company's net operating income (NOI) or cash flow and to analyze the project and proposed loan. Capitalization rates and valuation basics are also introduced as well as the appraisal process and identifying best practices regarding environmental assessments.

Series 3: Financing Different Types of Commercial Properties

This series helps the student identify and define important credit risk considerations for major property groups and special properties. In addition, students will identify and compare components used in reporting statements for various income properties, estimate rental income using various approaches and create pro forma operating statements.

Series 4: Understanding and Evaluating Leases, Appraisals, and Environmental Assessments

This series helps the student recognize and use lease terminology and recognize the cash flow and economic considerations of leases. Students will be shown how to review commercial property leases, assess the role and scope of an appraisal and identify issues in reviewing appraisals. The final section of Series 4 will assess the role and scope of an environmental assessment and identify issues when reviewing environmental assessments.

Series 5: Loan Structure and Documentation Considerations

This series helps the student assess various borrowing structures, identify issues involving owner occupied lending, determine loan documentation and due diligence considerations and to identify key components of CRE Loan structure.

Series 6: Construction Lending

This series helps the student identify the key types of construction projects and loans. In addition the series explains construction lending underwriting and administration issues and how to recognize the different elements of the construction lending process. Finally, the student will identify key elements for successful completion of construction projects and also the special issues involved with homebuilders and subdivision developers.

Credit Products for Small Businesses

Credit Products for Small Businesses teaches how to match credit products to small business clients' needs. This course also explains the market and product knowledge necessary to be a resource for small business clients.

AIB Course Code: 6652

Evaluating and Structuring Commercial Loans: A Decision Tree Approach

Evaluating and Structuring Commercial Loans: A Decision Tree Approach provides an in-depth look at the commercial lending process and the related financial analysis of a borrower. This curriculum addresses a mix of qualitative and quantitative underwriting and analysis skills. It will familiarize lenders with both audited and unaudited statements, and fill any gaps in their understanding of credit analysis. It includes in-depth readings, a comprehensive glossary of terms and job aids that are valuable references to download and print. Each course has a pre-test that allows learners to skip subjects where they demonstrate sufficient knowledge.

ABA Certificate in Commercial Lending

The ABA Certificate in Commercial Lending is awarded to students who successfully complete the entire Evaluating and Structuring Commercial Loans curriculum.

Level 1: Understanding Business Borrowers

This course focuses on understanding business industries and types, plus why they borrow money. It also introduces basic concepts of business financial accounting and entity structures.

Recommended AIB Credit: 1/2
AIB Course Code: 10804

Level 2: Analyzing Business Financial Statements and Tax Returns

This course covers the analysis of business financial statements and tax returns, including cash flow statements.

Recommended AIB Credit: 1/2
AIB Course Code: 10805

Level 3: Analyzing Personal Financial Statements and Tax Returns

This course moves into personal financial statements and tax returns, including combining business and personal cash flows into a global analysis.

Recommended AIB Credit: 1/2
AIB Course Code: 10806

Level 4: Qualitative Analysis and Determining a Credit Risk Rating

This course covers qualitative analysis and how to assess industry risk, market risk, and management risk. It also provides an understanding of the role of loan policy and the need to summarize the borrower's various risks into an appropriate credit risk rating.

Recommended AIB Credit: 1/2
AIB Course Code: 10807

Level 5: Loan Structuring, Documentation, Pricing, and Problem Loans

This course completes the lending process by providing guidance on loan structuring and documentation issues in response to the analysis of the quantitative and qualitative risks. This will include an overview of key documents, loan agreements and covenants, as well as negotiating and pricing.

Recommended AIB Credit: 1/2
AIB Course Code: 10808

Introduction to Analyzing Financial Statements

Introduction to Analyzing Financial Statements presents the tools needed to analyze business financial statements and teaches the associated terms and steps, including the income statement, the balance sheet, and the cash flow statement. This course teaches students how to perform a basic cash flow analysis of a small business client.

Recommended AIB Credit: 1/4
AIB Course Code: 6952

The Lending Decision Process

The Lending Decision Process, a product of The Risk Management Association, is designed to teach the analytical and decision-making techniques needed to make sound credit decisions using financial accounting, financial statement analysis, and cash flow analysis.

Series 1: Evaluating Industry, Markets, and Management

In this series, students interpret repayment risks related to industry, economic, market, and management influences.

Series 2: Evaluating Quality of the Borrower's Financial Reports

In this series, students interpret risks stemming from the quality of financial reports and underlying financial accounts.

Series 3: Analyzing the Company's Financial Performance and Financial Condition

In this series, students interpret repayment risks suggested by the company's historical financial performance and financial condition.

Series 4: The Cash Cycle, Seasonality and Discovering Borrowing Causes and Repayment Sources

In this series, students examine a company's cash cycle and seasonal characteristics, and interpret both short- and long-term borrowing causes and repayment sources.

Series 5: Analyzing Cash Flow Statements and Measuring Repayment Ability

In this series, students analyze cash flow statements to distinguish between profit and cash flow. They will use cash flow statements and traditional debt service coverage measures to interpret cash flow repayment risks.

Series 6: The Cash Cycle and Seasonality

In this series, students construct and analyze financial projections to interpret future ability to repay debt, identify the most appropriate type of loan, and to evaluate margins of protection in the event of changes in business, industry, or management risks.

Overview of Financial Statements

Overview of Financial Statements provides a solid foundation for understanding balance sheets, income statements, cash flow statements and tax return forms of small businesses, and their typical uses in lending. Students will learn how each statement presents information about a business and contributes to meaningful conclusions about the health and stability of the business.

Recommended AIB Credit: 1/4
AIB Course Code: 6951

Small Business Borrowing

Small Business Borrowing provides insight into the attractiveness of the small business market to lenders and what small business owners expect from their financial service providers. The market knowledge section of the course discusses borrowing cases, loan purposes, and repayment sources.

AIB & ICB CREDENTIALS

For over a century, ABA has offered banking courses and other training programs which lead to industry-specific AIB professional diplomas and skills certificates that address the education and training requirements of America's banks.

How well a bank's staff is trained impacts their satisfaction and the bank's performance. For flexible delivery, career development, courses that do double duty, college credit and an updated curriculum, the American Institute of Banking (AIB) is the leader in bank training.

Training needs in banking frequently change, a function of various factors including structural changes in the financial services industry, consumer preferences, competitive forces, technology, legal and regulatory changes, and workforce influences, among others.

When developing courses and programs, ABA curriculum researchers, with the guidance of banking experts, investigate the impact of these forces on the changing knowledge, skill and competency requirements of various banking positions and career paths. On a regular basis, courses, diplomas and certificates are rigorously evaluated to assess their validity and relative importance to evolving banking functions.

Grading Policies

The American Institute of Banking uses an official letter grading system for courses eligible for AIB credit. Policies for the use of letter grades are as follows:

All 2- and 3-credit courses have course objectives, require at least a final examination, and receive a letter grade of A, B, C, D or F. All 1/4-, 1/2- and 1-credit courses that have a written final exam (or another evaluated measure of learning) may receive a letter grade of A, B, C, D or F. Those 1/4-, 1/2- and 1-credit courses that do not have an evaluated measure of learning will receive a (Pass or Fail) P or F.

- A 90% - 100%
- B 80% - 89%
- C 70% - 79%
- D 60% - 69%
- F 59% or below

I Incomplete

This grade is recorded if you are unable to complete the work in a course by the examination period for legitimate reasons. If the work is not completed within one year of the examination period, an I grade automatically becomes an F.

P Passing

This grade is most often used for shorter courses for which the letter grading system is inappropriate. The P grade is excluded from a calculation of grade point average.

AIB Credit for Courses

AIB credit is awarded for satisfactory completion of courses in the AIB national curriculum that meet accepted academic standards and provide two or more hours of instruction. One instructional hour equals 50 minutes of classroom time. The number of instructional hours determines how many credits you earn:

0 credit	Less than 2 Instructional Hours
1/4 credit	2-4 Instructional Hours
1/2 credit	5-14 Instructional Hours
1 credit	15-29 Instructional Hours
2 credits	30-44 Instructional Hours
3 credits	45-59 Instructional Hours

Recommended instructional hours and AIB credits are included with each description in this catalog. AIB instructors cannot earn AIB credit for teaching AIB courses.

Transfer Credit

As an AIB student, you may receive transfer credit toward AIB diplomas. Credit may be transferred only from college courses completed at an accredited postsecondary institution and if the course meets AIB requirements.

For information about the number of transfer credits that may be applied to any AIB diploma, please refer to the diploma worksheets. The maximum number of credits received for any transferred course is 3.

You must submit an official transcript of your record from the accredited institution. The transcript must show the date of the credit, the name of the course, the number of credit hours, and the grade received. Only courses completed with a grade of C or better may be considered for transfer. Courses completed Pass/Fail will not be considered for transfer credit.

Diplomas and Certificates: AIB & ABA

Our diplomas and certificates are the first step in a successful career path for bank employees, and many meet the pre-certification education requirements that qualify a candidate to sit for the certification exam through the Institute of Certified Bankers (ICB) in their chosen field.

Diploma Requirements and Eligibility

All the following criteria must be met in fulfilling diploma requirements:

- Successful completion of required and elective courses
- “C” average or better
- Grades of A, B, C or D for all courses of 2 or more credits
- Graded courses applied to a diploma or certificate must have an overall C average.

Note: Accelerated 1-credit courses may be used in place of 2- and 3-credit courses without limitation or restriction. You may use courses and their corresponding credits for more than one diploma or certificate, if applicable.

When you have completed all the requirements, you should arrange to receive your diploma or certificate through a Local ABA Training Provider. For additional information on diplomas and certificates, call 1-800-BANKERS.

Courses Approved for Continuing Education Credit Toward ICB Certifications

Many courses have been approved by the Institute of Certified Bankers for certification eligibility and continuing education credit. Check our website at aba.com/ICB for details on individual courses and credits.

Student Records and Transcripts

All AIB student record keeping is performed by Local ABA Training Providers. You may obtain the name of your record keeper by calling 1-800-BANKERS or by going to aba.com and clicking on AIB under Professional Development. In many cases the local training provider is your state bankers association.

ABA EVENTS

ABA Professional Development offers conferences and schools throughout the year and around the country in easy-to-reach, education-focused locations.

Our conferences and schools are developed by bankers for bankers, and feature expert speakers, up-to-date content and practical solutions for your bank’s success – whatever the size of your institution. A significant benefit of attending an ABA event is the networking and the opportunity to build valuable professional relationships with peers from around the country. Most events also convey valuable CE credits for certifications from the Institute of Certified Bankers (ICB) as well as other accrediting organizations.

Conferences

ABA conferences range from strategic CEO and senior management offerings, to business-line specific programs in risk managements and compliance, wealth management and trust, bank marketing, agricultural banking, and commercial and residential real estate lending.

Schools

ABA schools help build skills and knowledge from a fundamental level to more advanced mastery of specific disciplines. Schools include compliance, trust, bank marketing, commercial lending, and culminate with the Stonier Graduate School of Banking geared to developing the next generation of banking leaders.

Telephone Briefings

Telephone briefings are an economical alternative for those who are unable to benefit from the in-person experience of a live conference or residential educational program.

Our events all have the ultimate goal of improving the performance of banks by improving the performance of bankers.

For more information visit aba.com/training or call 1-800-BANKERS.

Course hours and credits are subject to change. Check with your local provider or www.aba.com for any updates.

The American Council on Education’s College Credit Recommendation Service (ACE CREDIT) has evaluated and recommended college credit for 12 ABA Online Courses. The American Council on Education, the major coordinating body for all the nation’s higher education institutions, seeks to provide leadership and a unifying voice on key higher education issues and to influence public policy through advocacy, research, and program initiatives.

ACE CREDIT connects workplace learning with colleges and universities by helping adults gain access to academic credit at colleges and universities for formal courses and examinations taken in the workplace or other settings outside traditional higher education.

AIB PERSONAL TRUST DIPLOMA

NAME _____

The AIB Personal Trust Diploma was developed to prepare individuals for professional certification as a Certified Trust and Financial Advisor (CTFA), through the Institute of Certified Bankers (ICB). Becoming a Certified Trust and Financial Advisor is an important career decision for a trust professional and offers both a competitive advantage and professional recognition.

The 20 trust courses in Building Trust Expertise provide the technical underpinning of the diploma and address the core knowledge areas of the CTFA examination. In addition, the critical importance of ethical conduct in all aspects of the trust profession is reinforced in the required ethics curriculum.

While the curriculum addresses the major knowledge areas assessed by the examination, ICB emphasizes that completion of this diploma does not guarantee success on the CTFA examination. Experience and application of the knowledge to the work setting are important factors as well.
