Tad Lowrey Named Vice Chairman at Large for the California Bankers Association

SACRAMENTO – The California Bankers Association (CBA) today announced that Tad Lowrey, chairman and CEO of CapitalSource Bank, based in Los Angeles, was recently elected to serve as a vice chairman at large during the 2013-2014 year for California’s largest banking trade association.

“We are pleased to have Tad Lowrey join our executive committee, with his more than 30 years of bank leadership experience and as a longstanding active member of CBA,” said Rodney K. Brown, president and CEO of CBA.

Lowrey has served as CapitalSource Bank's CEO since its organization in July 2008. He has served as CEO, chairman and CFO for a variety of financial service organizations during the past 33 years. He also currently serves as vice chairman of the Federal Home Loan Bank of San Francisco.

He was previously appointed by the board of governors of the Federal Reserve Bank to a three-year term on the Thrift Institutions Advisory Council and has served as its vice president. He also served as an appointed member of the Savings Association Insurance Fund Advisory Committee to the FDIC, and he is a former chairman of the Western League of Savings.

Lowrey is an active member of the CBA, serving on numerous committees, including the state and federal political action committees and the political action administration committee. He has served as a member of the CBA board of directors since 2010. For more information on Lowrey, please visit www.calbankers.com/executive-committee to view his full profile.

About the CBA

Established 122 years ago, the California Bankers Association (CBA) is one of the largest state banking trade associations in the country. CBA leads the way in developing relevant educational and legislative solutions to some of California’s more pressing financial and banking issues, including financial empowerment, identity theft, financial privacy, and financial elder abuse. CBA’s membership includes the majority of California’s commercial, industrial and community banks and savings associations. For more information, visit www.calbankers.com.
